

There is a man and a lady walking down the street. They look like they are arguing. No, they aren't hitting each other yet, but they are yelling really loudly at each other. The man is wearing a white t-shirt and blue jeans. I can't see what the lady is wearing. She looks like she is Hispanic, about twenty-five years old. The man is also Hispanic, about thirty years old with black hair. He looks about five foot, eight inches and weighs one hundred and eighty pounds.

I'm reporting that there are three guys standing on the corner. They look like they are smoking some kind of drug or something. I think its meth. They are all Hispanic males. One guy is wearing a black t-shirt. He is about five foot, eight and in his thirties. He looks like he weighs about one hundred and sixty pounds. The other guy is about twenty-five years old. He is wearing a blue shirt. He is five foot, five inches and about one hundred and twenty pounds. I can't see the third guy well enough for a better description. I think they got out of a red Camero. It is old looking. The license plate is

I can't sleep because my neighbors are making too much noise. I think they are having a huge party because there is about fifty people in the backyard talking too loud. It sounds like they have a band too. The music is way too loud. I don't know if they have any weapons.
